that the rule, if passed, will limit the general debate on this great measure, involving vast economic principles and industrial interests, to three days of next week. We protest at this injustice, and we will continue to protest at each successive stage of the contest."

STILL WITHOUT A QUORUM.

Democratic Kickers and Populists

Refuse to Vote in the House. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.-The power of the committee on rules was invoked to-day to break down the obstruction in the path of the tariff debate. An ironclad order was brought in setting out the programme for the tariff debate and fixing Jan. 25 as the day for taking the final vote. This resulted only in sidetracking Mr. Boutelle and his Hawaiian resolution, for when the vote came to be taken on the adoption of the order the Democrats lacked nine votes of a quorum. At least twenty Democrats at the Capitol either absented themselves from the hall or refused to answer to their names when called. For four hours the Democratic leaders tried, with roll call after roll call, to bring their men into line, but, instead of gaining, they lost votes on each successive roll call. The Populists, with the exception of Mr. Bell, of Colorado, also declined to aid the Democrats to get the tariff bill before the House, giving as the reason for their action the short time that was proposed to be given for debate. Their votes would have made up a quorum. To-day's proceedings are, therefore, of additional importance, as marking the first time in the history of either branch of Congress since the organization of the third party, that its members have held the balance of power. Immediately after the reading of the journal the row began. Mr. Boutelle was on his feet clamoring for recognition, to call up his Hawaiian resolution, but the Speaker recognized Mr. Catchings, from the committee on rules, to present a special order adopted just before the House convened. Mr. Boutelle loudly insisted upon knowing what had become of his privileged resolution, which had been called up yesterday. The Speaker replied, rather sharply, that yesterday's proceedings had fallen with the adjournment and that the report called up from the committee on rules was a matter of the highest privilege.

Mr. Burrows, amid great confusion, re-served all points of order and when Mr. Catchings demanded the previous question on the report from the rules committee, Mr. Boutelle raised the question of consideration. The Speaker decided that Mr. Boutelle was out of order. The latter appealed from the decision of the chair and the Speaker, amid some evidences of satisfaction on the Democratic side, promptly re-fused to entertain the appeal. The Speaker was about to state the question on Mr. Catchings's demand for the previous question, when Mr. Burrows called attention to the fact that he had reserved all points of order, and desired to be heard. Speaker Crisp graciously yielded, and Mr. Burrows made the point of order that the special order presented by Mr. Catchings had originated in the committee instead of the House. As it carried with it a change of existing rules (giving leave to print to all members who so desired), it should, according to existing rules, have had its inception in the House, instead of the committee. After some debate and discussion of precedents, the Speaker overruled the point

The vote was then taken on the demand for the previous question on the adoption of the report of the committee on rules. The Republicans declined to vote, and several Democrats who were in the hall, and who are known to be opposed to the tariff bill, also remained mute. Among them were Messrs. Sperry of Connecticut, Haines of New York, Robertson of Louisiana and Ryan of New York. The vote resulted 169 to 1, nine less than a quorum.

As soon as the announcement that no quorum had voted had been announced by the Speaker, on motion by Mr. Catchings, a call of the House was ordered. The call developed the presence of 273 members. The motion then recurred on the demand for the previous question on the adoption of the special order. The Republicans sat silent, and the small coterie of Democrats, led by Mr. Sperry, declined to aid their Democratic brethren in the effort to secure a quorum. Mr. Sperry, in fact, actively busied himself in raising the standard of revolt, going so far as to ask Democratic members to refrain from voting. Mr. Cad-mus, of New Jersey, was an additional Democrat who declined to vote on this roll call. The vote resulted 169 to 0. Instead of gaining the Democrats lost on this roll call lacking eleven of a quorum Mr. Outhwaite moved a call of the House

Mr. Reed demanded a division, and the was ordered-104 to 31. The call developed the presence of 259 members. Further proceedings under the call were dispensed with and the vote was again taken on the demand for the previous question. On this roll Messrs. Coombs and Sickles, of New York, declined to answer to their names and, although Messrs. Breckinridge and Berry, of Kentucky, who had just arrived, voted, only 168 votes were cast, a loss of one since the last vote. The Democratic leaders decided to continue, however, if for no other purpose than to impress upon absentees the necessity of attendance as a measure of party discipline. Accordingly, on motion of Mr. Catchings, another call of the House was had. It developed the presence of 271 members, and again the roll was called on the motion to order the previous question. Messrs. English, of New Jersey, and Sibley, of Pennsylvania, refused to answer to their names on this vote, which resulted 166 to 0, a loss of 2 compared with the last vote. It having become manifest that a Democratic quorum could not be secured to-day, Gen. Catchings moved an adjournment at 3:50.

DO NOT FEAR THE GOVERNOR.

Florida Sports Pushing the Work on the Prize-Fight Arena.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 5 .- So certain are the members of the Tuval Athletic Club that the Cerbett-Mitchell fight will be pulled off in this city that another gang of men were to-day put to work on the arena, which is now over half completed. On Monday, the officials say, they will issue a statement in which their plans will be disclosed. These plans are said to be so perfect that there will be no way by which the fight can be prevented. Manager Bowden recently wired Governor Mitchell in regard to his position in the matter of the contest. Yesterday he received an answer, but denied that it referred to the subject in question. When seen this morning he showed a letter with a Tallahasse headline, which he explained had come from private individuals. This, he said caused the rumor that Governor Mitchell had written to him. This appears to be a bluff, however, on the part of Mr. Bowden, and it does not alter the fact that a letter from Governor Mitchell was received by him. It was of such an important nature that a meeting of the officials of the club was immedately called. The meeting did not last long, and it was evident that the news that Manager Bowden communicated to his brother officials was not very bad. The club people are now more positive than ever that the fight will take place. The betting here so far has not been of a very fast nature. Even money is now being offered here that Mitchell will not respond in the twenty-first round. Some of this has been taken, but the general opinfon is that the English champion will make a longer fight.

WORD FROM MR. HART

Splits a Hair Trying to Show He Is Not Opposed to Unions.

Loud Protests Against the Wilson Bill -Strange Case at Converse-Counterfeiters' Den at Muncie.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 5 .- To-night Mr Thomas F. Hart, acting president of the Window Glass Manufacturers' Association, was seen, and he stated that the dispatch from Washington in to-day's Journal misrepresented his views. He favors the Wilson tariff bill, he says; for the reason that the McKinley law permits the men to make such large wages that they are too independent and want to work when they please and couduct the affairs of the factory as they like. Mr. Hart says he is not opposed to organized labor, if the wages were where they should be, but he does oppose the tyrannical action of L. A. No. 300, of Pittsburg; that is the window glass workers' union. He thinks the only way to place window glass on the market at the figures it should be sold to the consumer is by a reduction of the tariff, as proposed in the ELWOOD, Ind., Jan. 5.-The East Elwood Assembly, No. 3134, F. M. B. A., met Tuesday evening and passed resolutions that are a direct slap at the administration. The resolutions will be forwarded to Congressman Bynum. Nearly every member of the assembly here is a Democrat. The resolutions in part are as follows:

"Resolved, That we condemn the proposition of the Secretary of the Treasury, Carlisle, to issue $200,000,000 of bonds and denounce such proposed measure as a cowardly makeshift, designed to bridge over the evils which must result from the cutting down of the revenues below the actual needs of the government.

"Resolved, That we denounce it as a scheme to place directly on the taxpayers the burdens of government, which should, in a great measure, be borne by the foreign manufacturers who seek to share the benefits of our markets. "Resolved, That this issue of bonds would boon to the capitalist, but a burden to the toiler and taxpayer.'

A Protest from Pendleton. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

PENDLETON, Ind., Jan. 5.-Merchants, tradesmen and farmers of this community are signing protests against the Wilson tariff bill. All the workmen including the Democrats, except one, at the Indiana window glass works, have signed the protest, likewise at the Pendleton window glass factory, except one Republican, and he refused for the reason that he wanted the Democrats to get their fill and have the experience instead of the theory. The protests will be sent to the Senate in a few days.

A CONVERSE ENOCH ARDEN.

Missing Husband Will Return to Find His Wife Married Again.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., Jan. 5.-A case which in many respects resembles that of Enoch Arden has developed at Converse, southwest of this city. A day or so ago Mrs. Noah Long, who with her children moved to Converse, a year or more ago, received a letter from her husband's sister, stating that Mr. Long, who mysteriously disappeared while he and his family were living in Carroll county, four years since, was alive and well in Arizona. Long married his wife, who was a Miss Retta Eltzroth, in 1883, in Carroll county and they lived together happily, three children being born to them, until February, 1890. Then Long took two horses to Frankfort, Ind., sold them for $250 and disappeared suddenly and completely. His father supposing he gone West made many trips beyond the Mississippi in search of him, but not a trace of him was found and last year Mrs. Long, in despair removed to Converse. Alleging abandonment, she sued for divorce and got a decree, which, however, in accordance with the Indiana statute forbade her marriage within two years, the husband being a non-resident. Mrs. Long, however, met and became infatuated with a butter-maker named A. R. Anderson and being anxious to wed him, they went to Michigan and were married and now reside in that State. The information just received that Mr. Long is alive, reasonably happy and meditating a visit to his old home, caused a sensation at Converse where the family is known.

POLICE MAKE A FIND.

Muncie Officers Come on a Kit of Burglars' and Counterfeiters' Tools.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 5.-Last evening the police found a complete outfit of counterfeiters' tools and a burglars' outfit at the home of Edward Martin, at Westside, across the river from this city. Martin was arrested and is in jail, while Frank Williams, who resided at the Martin home, is being eagerly sought. The police suspected that Williams had been implicated in a burglary and were in search of stolen property. Secreted in a garret they found a dilapidated trunk which contained both outfits. Molds of the silver dollar were found, bearing the date of 1891, and two of the spurious coins, poor specimens, were found. The metal was made of old silver knives, forks, spoons and napkin rings, and lead melted together, and a quantity of the alloy was found. Goods recently stolen from a store at Desota were also discovered. The men are not over twentyeight years old. Martin came here from Sioux City, Ia., and Williams from Cleveland, O. Both were employed at the Joseph Bell stove works as molders. Martin seemed greatly surprised at the find and would talk but little. His pretty young wife was likewise very "mum" when ques-

KOKOMO CONSPIRACY TRIALS.

The First Prominent Citizen in the Prisoners' Dock Yesterday.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KOKOMO, Ind., Jan. 5 .- The first of the conspiracy trials, in which eight prominent Kokomo citizens were indicted for attempting to kidnap and tar and feather M. L. Garrigus one night in last July, commenced here to-day. The defendants demanded separate trials. Leonard B. Hodgin, of the firm of John M. Leach & Co., brick manufacturers and ice dealers, was the first put on trial. The indictments charge that Hodgin, Councilman H. H. Stewart, W. W. Rudell, a retired merchant, James F. Bruff, the leading architect of the city, and Harry L. Chaney, head clerk at the Clinton Hotel, entered into a conspiracy with three colored men-Emory Moss, George Hodge and Duff Artis-whereby the latter should go to Garrigus's office, hustle him into a cab and drive him to the fair grounds, where a crowd was waiting with tar and feathers to mob him. The three colored men attempted to do their part, but failed. Garrigus shot one of the assailants and made his escape. Garrigus was agent and supposed correspondent for a Chicago Sunday paper that was publishing sensational, sub rosa stories about prominent Kokomo people and the conspiracy resulted from the indignation aroused by the articles. Hodgin's trial will consume several days.

Morton's Dismissal Urged.

DENVER, Jan. 5.-R. A. Southworth, secretary of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, of Colorado, this morning transmitted, by order of the council of the Union, a copy of the following resolution to President Cleveland and J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture:

"Resolved, That we condemn the course pursued by J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, in his ungentlemanly and unfarmer-like, ignorant and vicious attack at Chicago, on organizations of the tillers of the soil, and we earnestly urge President Cleveland to displace him with a competent man, who has at least some sympathy with the agriculturists. The office he now holds was created for the farmers at their demand, and, inasmuch as 88 per cent. of all exports of the country are produced on the farm, we believe the farmers are entitled to a genuine representative in this office—one who is in sympathy with their interests."

A Girl's Horrible Death.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 5.-Late this afternoon Miss Nettie Edenborn, of this city, met a peculiarly horrible death. Both horse and rider were horribly ground under the wheels of the car, the young lady dying almost before taken from under the car. The horse was also killed.

TALKS ON LIVE SUBJECTS.

Columbia Lincoln League Club Holds Another Meeting.

Stanch Republicanism and unlimited enthusiasm is a characteristic of the members of the Columbia Lincoln League, which meets every Friday night in Columbia Hall, at the corner of Delaware and McCarty streets. The members make the club meeting a time and place for mutual exchange of ideas upon active and practical party work, and spirited disccussions are the regular order within the hall when some enthusiastic worker becomes unusually eloquent in his support of the ideas which he has proven practicable. It is by the intelligent discussion of live issues of the day that the club has succeeded in keeping alive an unusual spirit of activity. Last night the room was crowded with earnest, working Republicans, and after the chairs were all taken the more fortunate ones who had secured seats kindly offered their laps to accommodate those who could not obtain seats. With all the discomfort that this entailed, the crowd remained till nearly 11 o'clock and listened to rousing speeches by a number of the members and visitors. As the meeting was upon the verge of holding Republican primaries the question for special discussion was "How to Conduct Primaries." W. W. Milford, a young man with large experience, was the first speaker and briefly but forcibly put forward practical suggestions for the con-sideration of the membership. He was followed by Merrill Moores, who added more valuable points to be considered in the holding of primaries, and who was loudly applauded as he took his seat. William Wiegel made a short tariff talk in which he got down to the practical level of the operation of the tariff as it affects the laboring man. Mr. Wiegel was cheered lustily when he said, "I would rather pay three men good wages than six men half wages.' Short speeches were also made by William Fesler, Robert Groff, J. J. Wenner, John Browning, W. H. Ripley, Oliver Ensley and others. A letter from a compositor in Harper's publishing house in New York city was read; the writer said that owing to the present supremacy of Democracy the house had reduced its force just one-half. The membership of the club is rapidly increasing, and it now has on its membership roll two hundred names. Last night a large delegation from the Marion Club visited the club and were received with a hearty welcome.

THE INDEPENDENTS WON.

Samuel Perrot's Crowd Turned Down at the Grav Club.

The election of officers of the Gray Club last night resulted in the selection of a mixed ticket, and Samuel E. Perrot, candidate for director, was turned under. For three weeks there has been on hand a bitter contest between the regulars and the independents, and the latter won the victory, electing their candidate for president by a majority of four votes. The balloting was under the Australian system, and it was 1:30 o'clock this morning before all the ballots were counted. Those elected are Independents-William E. Kleinsmith president; Thomas L. Davis, first vice president; John A. Conlen, recording secretary; Charles C. J. Resner, treasurer; W. E.

Kleis, marshal; T. J. Montgomery, assist-ant marshal; John Arthur, sergeant-at-arms; Joseph Barr, assistant sergeant-atarms; for the board of directors, Al Moore and Thomas Shannon. Those whose names were on both tickets were Kuhn, Resner, Berry and Curran. The election was the most hotly contested jorities in no case were large.

He Obtained a Dollar on the Daily Sentinel's Credit.

E. J. Hibben, of this city, is again under arrest. The young man, who comes from a respectable family, has a cheerful habit of circulating about the smaller cities of the State representing himself as agent for the Indianapolis Sentinel, at the same time negotiating a loan of a small amount, never in excess of $5, generally $1, until he can "get a remittance from his paper." Yesterday he secured $1 from editor E. N. Creecraft, of Franklin, upon these representations. Mr. Creecraft had a suspicion that he had been worked, and to satisfy himself wired the Sentinel, giving a description that exactly fitted Hibben. W. H. Deacon telegraphed the marshal of Franklin to arrest and hold the impostor, which was done without much trouble, as Hibben, not suspecting that he was detected, was still in the town. He was brought here and landed in the police station last night.

SAW WATTERSON'S MURDERER.

A Woman Tells the Coroner About Two Negroes' Movements.

During the examination of witnesses in the Watterson murder case yesterday, the coroner brought out a statement from woman living on Ninth street which has never been published. The woman is positive that the murderer of Watterson was a negro. She lives on the corner of Ninth street and the alley through which the Merchant officer and his slayer are supposed to have gone after the first struggle. The witness saw two men running, and both were black. One of the men was several feet in front of the other, and she noticed that he wore a slouch hat. She did not think this was Watterson, from the fact that the hat was not of the kind usually worn by the officer. The woman was unable to recognize either of the men, but she noted at the time that both were negroes. She claims that she heard no shooting and did not see the struggle.

Minor Board of Works Matters. Final estimates, amounting to $3,024.18, were allowed Enos Hege on the contract for the masonry of the Vermont-street bridge over Pogue's run. He was allowed $500 as a partial estimate on the Prattstreet bridge over the canal.

The street bills for the week amounted to $45.25 for the sewer gang, $353.38 for the street repairs gang, $106.48 for the bridge

Upon the petition of H. B. Holloway the board ordered Charles street graveled from Hill street to Palmer.
Inspector J. F. Scholl reported that it was impossible to keep Pennsylvania street clean in the neighborhood of Fourteenth street on account of the sewer work at Fourteenth street. He recommended that the property owners at the corner be ex-empt from paying the sweeping tax till the asphalt is replaced.

The gas companies were notified of a bad leak in a natural gas main in Georgia street, between Illinois and Tennessee streets. The publishers of the Sentinel were notified that the city attorney held that their claim for $1 an inch for advertising was not according to contract. The board offered to pay the bill at 18 cents a square inch.

Then They Eloped. John Conlen and Miss Leonie Leffler, two youthful lovers; eloped from this city and were married at Grand Rapids, Mich., Wednesday morning, Mr. Conlen is twenty-two years old and his bride is a Classical School girl of seventeen. Miss Leffler is the daughter of Charles Leffler, a South Meridian-street merchant, while Mr. Conlen is employed by his father, a West Washington-street pawn broker. The young couple have been keeping company for some time. Recently young Conlen asked for the hand of Miss Leffler, but her parents were averse to the marriage on account of the youth of their daughter. They did not, however, object to the union at some time in the future. Mr. Leffler called Tuesday evening to escort Miss Leffler to the Patti concert. Instead the two repaired to the Union Station and took the train for Grand Rapids, where the marriage ceremony was performed yesterday. The same afternoon the parents of the young couple were advised of the marriage by telegraph.

NEW HOUSE OF WORSHIP.

The Dedication of the Broadway M. E. Church Will Occur To-Morrow.

Like the growth of a mushroom does the erection of the new building known as the Broadway M. E. Church seem to those who have not been intimately associated with the movement. The organization which makes the nucleus for the new church has existed for years, being known first as Pattison and then Seventh-street M. E. Church, but now it bears the name Broadway M. E. On Oct. 23, by the action of its quarterly conference, it was decided to move, not the building, but the organization, to the corner of Broadway and Twelfth street. Plans and specifications for a bullding 40x60 feet, with a parlor 18x23 feet, and a tower 12x12 feet, were adopted, and within a week's time the new building was in process of erection. The last service in the old church was held Dec. 24 and the first in the new on Dec. 31, 1893. The opening and the week's services following have been most promising for the future of the church. The congregations have been large. attentive and responsive. The structure is a frame, substantially built, and has modern conveniences in the way of furnace and reflector. The rooms are nicely finished and neatly decorated. Among those who have served this organization as pastors are Revs. Amos Hanway, J. S. Reager, M. L. Wells, R. D. Black, W. H. Wydman, S. F. Tincher, J. S. Tevis and the present incumbent, the Rev. T. W. Northcott, under whose direction the new church has been erected. The building is to be dedicated to-morrow at 2 p. m. by Rev. C. N. Sims, D. D., assisted by the pastors of the city. The day's services will be introduced by lass meeting at 9:30 a. m., preaching at 10.30 a. m. by the pastor. At night Rev. E P. Brown, editor of the Ram's Horn, will preach, followed by a praise service. Re-vival services will be held the week follow-
